Rail Unions Set Fight In Job Ruling

5 Bare Strategy For Court Attack On Federal Action

WASHINGTON (AP) Five rail unions announce today their strategy for a court attack on a federal arbitration ruling that would wipe out thousands of railroad jobs.

The unions representing the men who run the trains—engineers, firemen, brakemen, switchmen and conductors—indicated they were committed to some kind of court action after a meeting Monday night.

But a spokesman said there were these questions to be decided:

Whether they would join in a concerted attack and how many suits to file. Whether they would attack the ruling itself, aim at the emergency legislation that set up the arbitration panel, or shoot at both.

Congress set up the panel to head off a nationwide rail strike last August.

The planned legal action added a few more knots to the snarled, four-year-old work rules dispute that has so far deflected settlement efforts under the Railway Labor Act, the Labor Department, a special presidential emergency board and Congress.

Nearly 200 railroads are involved.

The unions refuse to accept last week's ruling of the arbitration board to eliminate slowly 90 per cent of some 32,000 firemen's jobs, and to give the National Mediation Board power to impose binding decisions on the size of train crews if the parties can't settle that issue on a local basis.

The ruling on the firemen's issue guaranteed job protection for most of the 40,000 men involved.

Webber, Elliott Out For Commissioner

A former East Liverpool councilman and a Rogers attorney have announced they are candidates for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the May primary. Two seats are open.

Samuel B. Webber, 565 Broadview Circle, said today he will seek the nomination.

Webber has started circulating petitions for nomination to the post he also sought two years ago.

An employee of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., Webber served one term as a city councilman and is a member of the county Republican central committee and is a past president of the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Webber of Monroe St., he is married and the father of a daughter, Debbie. He is a former vestryman at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and a past exalted ruler of Elks Lodge 258.

Atty. Donald Elliott announced he will also seek a post on the Board of Commissioners.

Elliott, who is married, is a graduate of Western Reserve University and its Law School. He is a member of the Columbian County Board of Education, representative director of the Columbian County Public Health League and its past president, vice president of the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association and chairman of the Columbian County Forests and Parks Council.

He is secretary and a board member of the New Waterford Bank, a member and treasurer of the Columbian County Agriculture Society's Fair Board and has been practicing attorney for 28 years, first in Lisbon and the last 22 years in Rogers.

Nearly Ready For White House

FBI Report Will Indicate Oswald Was Lone Slayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An exhaustive FBI report nearly ready for the White House will indicate that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone and unaided assassin of President Kennedy, government sources said today.

The report will go to President Johnson this week, it was predicted, and Johnson will forward it promptly to the seven-member investigating commission he named Friday.

Members of the commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, awaited a call from Warren to hold their first meeting and organize the machinery for an inquiry which apparently has no precedent in American history.

Whether the FBI report would be made public before the Warren commission begins its study apparently was undecided.

Various government sources said the FBI report, incorporating the findings of the Secret Service and at least a half-dozen other federal agencies, would indicate that:

Oswald, without accomplices, fired three shots at Kennedy Nov. 22 from a self-prepared hideaway at a sixth-floor window of the Texas School Book

Depository in Dallas as the presidential motorcade passed.

The first and third shots struck the President. Either could have killed him.

The second shot missed Kennedy but struck and seriously wounded Texas Gov. John Connally.

About 5½ seconds elapsed between the first shot and the last. Despite questions raised by some rifle experts, federal agents consider Oswald's bolt-action rifle could have been aimed and fired that rapidly.

It has been established that all three shots came from the same direction, behind and slightly to the right of the President's car. This gave the assassin a target moving approximately in the direction of his line of fire, an easier shot than a target moving across it.

Ballistics studies reportedly substantiate that the same weapon fired all three shots.

Evidence is lacking of any personal acquaintance between Oswald and Jack Ruby, the Dallas nightclub owner who broke through a crowd of spectators and killed the prisoner two days later, as Oswald was about overlooked.

The report has been described as a narrative in minute detail.

It was considered likely that some portions dealing with Jack Ruby might be withheld for the present, since he is facing trial for Oswald's shooting.

Official sources indicate the FBI still is working on its report. The basic document is ready, but agents Monday still were tracking down belated tips, reports and rumors to make sure that no leads were overlooked.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson outlines for Democratic congressional leaders today a personal economy-in-government program he hopes will boost chances for an early tax cut.

The economy drive, which Johnson has been accelerating day by day, represents the first major policy move to bear the personal stamp of the new President. All other programs endorsed by Johnson during his first 11 days in office originated with the late President Kennedy.

Johnson summoned seven Democratic leaders of the Senate and House to a Cabinet Room conference representing a resumption of Tuesday morning sessions initiated by Kennedy.

The congressional delegation, led by House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, was the same group that met regularly with Kennedy—with one exception. Added was Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, president pro tem of the Senate.

Leoni, Betancourt's candidate, led his nearest rival in the seven-man race by more than 200,000 votes, according to unofficial tabulations based on 70 percent of the vote.

Defying threats, bullets and bombs from Communist terrorists, 95 per cent of Venezuela's eligible voters balloted Sunday.

Violence subsided in Caracas Monday. There was no sign of the outlawed pro-Castro Armed Forces for National Liberation (FALN), whose campaign of terror had resulted in an almost daily loss of life for months.

In second place in the presidential race was Rafael Caldera, a Social Christian member of Betancourt's government coalition. Unofficial returns to day showed: Leoni, 692,206; Caldera, 470,174.

Exhausted from the strenuous campaign, Leoni went to bed in the early evening, confident that he would govern the oil-rich nation for the next five years.

Venezuela's constitution prevented Betancourt from succeeding himself. He will turn over the presidency in March.

Leoni, 55, won a reputation for honesty and achieved some popularity among workers as labor minister in Betancourt's 1946-47 provisional government.

Meanwhile, U.S. Embassy officials maintained a vigil most of the night for the release of Lt. Col. James K. Chenault, deputy chief of the U.S. military mission in Venezuela. He had not been released early today, however.

Chenault, 47, of Sherman, Tex., was seized in front of his Caracas home Wednesday by four terrorists.

G. Stewart Thompson of East Liverpool is acting secretary-treasurer. He was named following the death of W. A. Betz in March. Mr. Betz was serving in his 22nd year.

The USPA is a manufacturer's organization. Its member concerns produce a large percentage of the nation's dinnerware.

The acting president is J. Ross Buchanan of the Mayer China Co. at Beaver Falls. He assumed the post in August following the death of W. V. Oliver, president of the French-Saxon China Co. at Sebring. Mr. Buchanan formerly was first vice president.

Board Adjusts Work Period

Of Custodians

Hourly Pay Rate To Remain Unchanged For 40-Hour Base

The Board of Education voted Monday night to comply with an opinion from Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper in which he recommended that pay of custodians be readjusted at a proportionately lower salary to comply with a new state law establishing a 40-hour work week for non-teaching employees.

"It is my opinion that the non-teaching employees have been hired on a salary scale that is for a 44-hour work week and that a reduction in the work week should result in a corresponding reduction in pay,"

Board members said Cooper's opinion will have no effect on the salaries since the custodians still may work 44 hours a week for which they will be paid overtime for the extra four hours.

If the men choose to work only 40 hours, their gross pay will be reduced but the hourly rate will remain the same, board members said.

In his letter to the board, the solicitor said the controversial statute "is vague in its application and unless changed by the Legislature its purpose and meaning will have to be determined by a court of law."

"Until such time and to prevent this question from arising again, it is my recommendation that the salaries of the non-teaching employees be readjusted and re-established at a proportionately lower salary on the 40-hour work basis and a regularly hourly rate of pay be established on such 40-hour basis and, if a 44-hour week is worked, then overtime be paid for the extra four hours."

Cooper said he was informed by Supt. Paul H. Blair and Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk.

Duffy's Opposition Delays Passage Of 3 Other Increases

Council gave approval Monday night to ordinances boosting the salaries of the seven councilmen who will take office Jan. 1, along with the pay rates of seven clerical employees at City Hall, but a lone opposition vote delayed immediate enactment of raises for three more elective officials.

Police Lt. William E. McDowell said he will charge Ronald Lee Brady, 24, of Akron and Clinton Marvin Gregory, 23, of Barberton with the breaking and entering of Roy's Bar in which eight fifths of whisky, approximately 100 packs of cigarettes and more than $26 in cash was taken.

The pair was taken into custody in a rental car about 1:30 a.m. Sunday on Routes 7 and 30 near the Sub-Station by Deputy Sheriff Herman (Cy) Wellman and Dave Brothers at the request of East Liverpool police because of suspicious actions in the area, Lt. McDowell said.

McDowell said interrogation of the pair at the County Jail in Lisbon and physical evidence found on the men and in their car and at the tavern linked them to the city burglary. He

Deaths and Funerals

John Stacey
Claimed At 83

John W. Stacey, 130 W. 2nd St., a retired stationary engineer, died at 4:50 a. m. today at City Hospital following a week's illness. He was 83.

A resident of this vicinity for 63 years, Mr. Stacey worked at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. for 20 years, retiring in July 1959.

He was born Nov. 6, 1880, in Hull, England. He was a member of Steelworkers Local 1212.

Mr. Stacey is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lessie E. Stacey; six sons, Robert E. Stacey, Roy T. Stacey, Samuel Stacey and Arthur J. Stacey, all of East Liverpool; John R. Stacey of Wellsville; and Fawson G. Stacey of Parkersburg; a daughter, Mrs. Claude (Elizabeth) Dawson of East Liverpool and 27 grandchildren, and 32 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday night at the funeral home.

Paul Grimm

Paul Grimm, 1629 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, died at 4:15 a. m. today at City Hospital, where he had been a patient since Wednesday, following a heart attack at home. He had been in failing health several months. He was 78.

Born Jan. 8, 1885, in Toronto, to James L. Grimm and Matilda Trimmer Grimm, he resided in Toronto before moving to Wellsville 21 years ago.

He was employed for 22 years as a carpenter at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. until retiring in October, 1958. He was a member of the First Christian Church of Wellsville.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Graham Grimm at home; three daughters, Mrs. Harold Taggart and Mrs. Robert W. Bowers, both of Toronto, and Mrs. Robert Culp of Wellsville; seven sons, James Grimm of Cleveland, Paul Grimm Jr. of Toronto, Charles C. Grimm of Industry, and Wilmont Grimm, Jack Grimm, Robert Grimm and Norman Grimm, all of Wellsville; a brother, James W. Grimm of Wildwood, N. J., and 34 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by Robert E. Andrews, minister. Burial will be in Union Cemetery, Toronto.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Infant Gilmore

Graveside services were to be held today at Norfolk, Va., for Mark William Gilmore, infant son of Hospital Corpsman Frank Gilmore and Sue Moore Gilmore who was stillborn Monday at 2 a. m. at the DePaul Hospital in Norfolk, Va. The father is stationed at the Naval Air Force Base at Norfolk.

Survivors include the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Olive Williams, and the maternal grandfather, Robert A. Moore, both of Chester; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gilmore of East Liverpool; the maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Moore, and the paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Maude Gilmore, both of Chester.

Mrs. Minnie Russell

Mrs. Minnie M. Russell, former East Liverpool resident and widow of Fred H. Russell, died Monday at 8 p. m. at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. L. Wilson, of Wintersville, following a lingering illness. She was 82.

A resident of East Liverpool for 30 years, she was a caterer here and was a member of the First Methodist Church. She resided in Wintersville for the last four years.

Her sister is the only survivor.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. John Clark. Burial will be in Spring Hill Cemetery, Wellsville.

Friends may call Wednesday at the funeral home.

November Near NormalWeekend Weather Aided Area's Drought Problem

Last weekend's snow and rainfall — the greatest precipitation measurement in the area since March — helped push November's rain total to near normal. Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reported.

The 1.32 inches recorded Friday gave November a total of 2.28 inches, compared to 2.41 inches normal for the month, he said.

The mild days of last month showed up in the statistics with an average temperature of 42.1 degrees, well above the normal 39.6 degrees for November in Copeland's 71-year-old record.

Despite the precipitation over the weekend, Copeland said much more rain is needed. "It just laid the dust," he commented.

In order for rainfall to be normal for 1963, December will have to have 12 inches of precipitation, he declared.

He said the small grain crops planted in September and October finally came up on Nov. 21. Copeland said several warm days and more moisture is needed to give a better growth for winter.

A high of 64 degrees was recorded Nov. 22 and a low of 16 degrees Nov. 25. There were 16 cloudy days, eight partly cloudy days and six clear days, making sunshine amount to 33 per cent — exactly normal for the month.

Snow fall last month measured 5 inches, almost twice the normal 2.15 inches, Copeland said.

Despite the precipitation over the weekend, Copeland said much more rain is needed. "It just laid the dust," he commented.

In order for rainfall to be normal for 1963, December will have to have 12 inches of precipitation, he declared.

Californian's Case Dropped

LISBON — An indictment against a 24-year-old California man for possession of burglary tools was dismissed Monday by Common Pleas Judge Joe L. Sharp.

Attorneys for William Garret VanZee II of San Anselmo asked the indictment be dismissed on grounds that possession of locksmith tools did not constitute an offense under Ohio law.

VanZee and Wayne Russell Redmond, 31, of Santa Clara, Calif., were arrested at a motel south of here in 1962 by the Ohio Highway Patrol after Redmond allegedly used a fictitious name in applying for Ohio titles for two autos.

Conferences concerning the indictment were held yesterday from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. by Judge Sharp, Prosecutor William Brokaw, Assistant Prosecutor Joseph Barronzi and Atty. George Aronson and Atty. Bernard Fineman.

In handing down his ruling, Judge Sharp said he could find no law which made possession of tools for doors or ignitions or dies to make keys, with or without intent of burglary of an auto, a crime in the state.

The judge ordered the prosecutor to have all the tools photographed on white background for possible future use.

Redmond, under indictment for using a false name in obtaining Ohio titles, is in jail in California, and it is expected his trial will be held when his term in California is completed.

Commissioners Pay Wellsville For Dogs

Some people think it's a bit frivolous to like a car just because it looks nice. So what you'll have to do is bone up a little on all the other things that make a Pontiac a Pontiac.

Wide-Track, for instance. Wide-Track is what does away with tilting your way around turns. Pontiac's smoother, quieter ride is another thing you might point out.

Be careful, though. One ride in this car and everybody's going to think you're made of money. You can solve that problem by telling what you paid.

Or you might just say, "You'd sure think this car cost a lot, wouldn't you?"

Or you could take everybody's mind off it entirely by giving your Pontiac some throttle. A big 389-cubic-inch Trophy V-8 is standard in each and every Pontiac. And you get to choose from 34 engine/transmission teams. (Happy choosing!)

Now then — on to more of the things that make the '64 Pontiac so thoroughly likeable. Frankly, we couldn't think of anything radical to do with this car. Oh, we made the styling even more stylish, as you can plainly see. We lavished even more care on the interiors. We even improved the light bulbs. But as for more vital things, why change? Improve, refine, sharpen — yes. Change — no.

And you can tell that to your friends.

Really, though, you can buy a Pontiac solely because you like its looks. We don't think you'll find many people who'll ask you for more practical reasons.

What they'll be asking for is a ride — and the name of the man you bought your '64 Pontiac from.

The Two Johnsons

The similarity of name is not the only reason for wondering about that other Johnson who became president of the United States after a presidential assassination.

Andrew Johnson, too, was classified formally as a Southerner. But like Lyndon Johnson, the classification referred more to geography than to a state of mind. Andrew Johnson was not Southern in viewpoint. He was Unionist in sympathy.

Viewed as a Southerner (eastern Tennessee) he was too progressive for ready acceptance by other Southerners. But he could not have been viewed as anything else. He was born and bred in the South.

THIS IS now the position of President Johnson. Southerner born and bred, yet assigned by fate to the political task of bringing the Negro to full citizenship. There is a particularly significant similarity in the political problem now and then.

The never-ending struggle between Congress and the White House sharpened after Lincoln's death, when Southern senators hoped to regain the prestige they sacrificed to the Confederacy and Northern Democrats hoped to join hands with their restored brothers to dominate the national legislature.

President Andrew Johnson was caught between the Democratic hopefuls and Republicans who hadn't the slightest intention of restoring the Confederate states and their senators to their formerly dominant positions. They ground him to powder.

All Available Information

Compared with the way things used to be, before public events were televised and reported instantaneously, public affairs now are an open book.

The only trouble is that the book has become so large, with so many regional additions, that no one can keep up with it, unless it is made a special project. This usually is the prerogative of specialists who get paid for the time required to do the job right.

The rest of us either can wait for research specialists and hope their versions will be correct or depend on official commissions. This is why we are grateful for President Johnson's prompt appointment of a seven-member panel to learn the truth about the assassination of President Kennedy and related events.

Chief Justice Warren will head the panel, which will take the place of competing Senate and House investigations that otherwise would have been instituted and also take some of the pressure off the FBI. This would have been the lone federal agency in position to collect and evaluate information.

The Warren group will be given sub-

We've got a simple solution to the U.S. balance of payments deficit and the drain on our gold reserves.

Tell European nations we will write off their war debts in an amount equal to their claims against our dollar.

If that were to happen, there would be no dollar problem. If the rest of the world would pay off the debts they owe the U.S., the problem would be the other way around.

Europe's nations owe the U.S. more than $27 billion. Of that amount, $20 billion represents principal and interest on World War I debts. The debts are exclusive of vast lend-lease aid in World War II and Marshall Plan aid following that war.

France owes the U.S. $7 billion, Britain

Key To Freedom

It scares me every time I find out how little tolerance my countrymen really have for two party government.

They are never further than a few steps from the brink of totalitarian oblivion.

The thing that could destroy all of us someday is their burning resentment of political criticism. They love to dish it out, but they hate to take it. They keep playing with the notion things might be better if criticism could be choked off when the "loyal opposition" is doing it.

They are tired of sniping and carping, they say.

Snipers and carpers, they say, are unfair. So why let them snipe and carp?

FOR ONLY one reason, fellow countrymen. Because if the right is taken away from the other side, it can be taken from your side.

That wouldn't be so good, would it?

No U.S. citizen who can't say and honestly believe he disagrees with everything another man says but will fight for his right to say it has missed the point of freedom.

It is not something that can be put on like a hat, this freedom. It is something men must scramble for and scrounge for. They must be willing to fight and die for it. They must want it so much they never quit trying to get it, because in fact that's how it works. Men strive for it. They never have it.

The pursuit of freedom and the pursuit of happiness go together.

critical pieces in their feud that has continued to this day.

PRESIDENT Lyndon Johnson is in danger of being pushed into the same grinder. He has pledged himself repeatedly as vice president and now as president to full civil rights for Negroes.

The impact of his leadership in this controversy is expected to be greater than that of the late President Kennedy because of his demonstrated ability to manage legislative affairs.

It is ironic that this was to have been the signal contribution of Andrew Johnson, one-time legislator and state governor.

But it did not save him from the ferocity of the battle between Southern irreconcilables and the Northerners tired of legislative domination by one bloc of sovereign states.

Traffic Note

With reports of sledding and skidding accidents beginning to come in and with more snow overnight, it's quite evident that another traffic hazard has returned to plague East Liverpool and district motorists.

That sleds come out of hiding and that cars skid when it snows isn't news. It happens every year. But a reminder now could be the means of averting further trouble in many cases.

If you motorists haven't prepared for winter driving, now's the time to do it, likewise you sledgers. Your problem is to watch out for the motorists who aren't prepared.

Jack Ruby And His 'Friends'

With No Wasted Effort

Jack Ruby And His 'Friends'

By Victor Riesel

For days I have been wandering through the life and times of Jack Ruby, indicted for the murder of the accused murderer of John Kennedy. I have traced Ruby, his friends and friends of his friends.

I have been in a snake pit through which have slithered such characters as "Needlenose" Labriola, Paul Jones, goons from Joe Vachich's Cosa Nostra and killers and con-men out of the Chicago Capone combine.

I have found that Ruby's night spot at one time was a haunt of Chicago hoods who came to Dallas to "case it" for its possible "take." They decided they could take at least $18 million a year out of the city from labor rackets and other operations.

From Dallas they planned to expand the business to cover Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

THEIR GALL was matched only by their arrogance and disdain. One of them suggested that to prove their toughness they murder four local gamblers, put their bodies in a car and leave it outside police headquarters.

Jones, who was friendly with Ruby now in prison, had broad horizons. One Dallas police lieutenant later told the McClellan committee that Jones had told him that the group planned to unionize every truck driver in the United States.

Jones said: "When we do that, we can bring industry to its knees, and even the government if we have to . . ." Jones indicated that his combine thought this was the most important area of their activities.

The hoods terrorized restaurant operators. They forced some owners to buy meat from them at prices higher than the market. How? By cutting off linen supplies — and workers.

But they reached too far, too hard. Jones tried to bribe a sheriff. He was convicted. "Chicago" became disgusted. The others were recalled. "Needlenose" wound up with a tight wire around his throat in the back of a car. This interfered with his breathing. And so went "Needlenose."

But Chicago never held any terror for Jack Ruby. He knew lots of the boys. Back in 1937, Ruby was so cocky that he stepped in where the wise ones are loath to tread.

HERE STARTS a bizarre play cast in the image of ancient Greek tragedy.

Ruby knew a lawyer called Leon Cook. The former got Cook to lunch and suggested they organize a union in an unorganized area. It was indicated there would be no difficulty getting a federal charter from the old AFL.

(A federal charter is one issued directly by the central office in Washington, not by a national union.) The CIO called these "LIU's"—local Industrial Unions.

They got their charter—Local 467, Waste Material Handlers Union. Ruby was secretary. He and Cook worked hard. Some decided Cook was working too hard and eased his pain with some bullets on Dec. 8, 1939. Ruby stayed on for a while. Then the AFL regional office removed him. Out of nowhere came the new secretary-treasurer, Paul "Red" Dorfman, attorney for the Capone mob. Another is Abner "Longy" Zwillman, one of the top figures in the American underworld. . . .

"Now there is Mr. John Dioguardia, alias Johnny Dio, a notorious New York gangster in the garment district. . . .

At the end of 1957, Dorfman was ousted from the waste handlers union by labor's national office. But soon he was organizing for a teamster local in Chicago.

When last heard from he was in the Palm Springs sunshine.

He said he thought Jack Ruby was a "real nice guy."

Today he is chief of the federal marshals.

ON JAN. 29, 1959, Kennedy put McShane on the Senate committee witness stand.

Kennedy asked: "Do you have some information that would summarize your investigation, as well as the investigations that have been conducted by other government departments?"

McShane replied: "According to our investigation, Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Paul Dorfman is a major figure in the Chicago underworld. He is an associate of most of the leading gangsters in the Chicago area. He is the contact man between dishonest union leaders and members of the Chicago underworld. . . ."

And then McShane continued: ". . . of Mr. Dorfman's criminal and other associates, there is one Anthony "Tony" Accardo, known as the head of the Chicago mob since the death of Al Capone. Another is Mr. Abraham Teitelbaum, former attorney for the Capone mob. Another is Abner "Longy" Zwillman, one of the top figures in the American underworld. . . .

"Now there is Mr. John Dioguardia, alias Johnny Dio, a notorious New York gangster in the garment district. . . .

At the end of 1957, Dorfman was ousted from the waste handlers union by labor's national office. But soon he was organizing for a teamster local in Chicago.

A Widow's Courage

By David Lawrence

The Untold Story Of Jacqueline Kennedy

The untold story of Jacqueline Kennedy may inspire the poets of tomorrow to write the epic of a tragedy almost unparalleled in history.

Three times in a matter of seconds did death whiz by her — the wife of the President of the United States and the mother of their two little children. David Lawrence

Only a few inches spared her the same fate that befell her husband. Instantly he lay prostrate in her lap. She saw the bleeding body — his head injured beyond description and never uncovered again.

As Jacqueline Kennedy went to the hospital in a speeding car, as she waited for the final word of the physicians, as she traveled by plane to Washington and emerged there in the same blood-spattered dress that she had worn at the moment that changed history, there was no outward sign of the grief which she felt within.

She could have collapsed in tears. She might have sought the solace of solitude. But she exhibited instead the courage of a person who felt an overwhelming sense of duty. She alone could express the wishes of a wife and the nation's first lady.

She began to think of her husband as the fallen President of the United States — as the man to whom the people generally would wish to pay solemn and significant tribute.

She gave to the aides at the White House helpful suggestions. She arranged for the details of the funeral service and the street procession to the church.

JACQUELINE KENNEDY, her eyes straight ahead, walked the half-mile from the White House to St. Matthew's Cathedral as she led the members of the government of the United States and many dignitaries from foreign governments — all of them — afoot.

Her face, as she stood at the grave at Arlington Cemetery was impassive — shrouded butundaunted. The whole world saw this mystery of self — an example to everybody that she was thinking of the great sacrifice her husband had made to public service.

To all the world Jacqueline Kennedy presented last week an image which the London Evening Standard epitomized as "majesty."

People everywhere, hundreds of millions of them, did weep tears and manifest their sympathy.

A TYPICAL LETTER—which came to a Washington friend from a French newspaper woman in Paris, a grandmother who has watched historic events for a long, long time—is quoted here:

"I heard a flash on the radio: 'Kennedy shot! Badly wounded!' It was a terrible shock. I could not believe it. But I hoped the news had been exaggerated. I let the radio stay on, my heart beating rapidly and about 20 minutes later the tragic news reached my ears—he was dead! I cannot tell you the sorrow which was mine. From that moment on, the telephone began to ring. My friends and acquaintances were calling to tell me how shocked, horrified and grieved they were.

"You cannot have any idea of the depthness of the grief that has spread all over this country. Everybody — yes, everybody — shares the pain that has fallen on the United States. Everybody is concerned.

"For me it was a terrible blow. I could not eat, could not sleep, could not work. It was if I had lost somebody very dear to me. And when I say 'I' I should say 'we' — friends, acquaintances, unknown people in the streets. They could not speak of anything else. Never have I seen such a unanimous, general mourning. Words are unable to express the general feeling. How many people have I seen with tears in their eyes!"

What lessons do such manifestations of human grief teach us? It is that the hearts of peoples everywhere can be united irrespective of geography or nationality.

EVEN AS the world poured out its sympathy, a lonely woman strolled along the sandy shore of Cape Cod last Saturday comforted only by the living memorial at her side — two beautiful children braving the winds and watching the pounding surf.

Jacqueline Kennedy's intimate thoughts these last few days may never be known, but there might have passed through her mind sentiments like those expressed just 200 years ago by George Withers, an English poet, who penned "A Widow's Hymn." It reads in part as follows:

"How near me came the hand of death,

"When at my side he struck my dear,

"And took away the precious breath,

"Which quicken'd my beloved peer! . . .

"Lord! Keep me faithful to the trust

"Which my dear spouse repose in me?"

"To him now dead preserve me just

"In all that should performed be!

"For though our being man and wife

"Extendeth only to this life,

"Yet neither life nor death should end

"The being of a faithful friend."

Letters To The Editor

Since the tragic death of President John F. Kennedy, many people have condemned the great city of Dallas. I would like to express my thanks to the East Liverpool Review for not joining these "self-appointed critics" in condemning Dallas.

The citizens of Dallas are responsible in some ways for Mr. Kennedy's death, but so are the citizens of the entire United States of America. All of us have let that terrible fault — get the best of us. No one is innocent of this fault.

Perhaps Mr. Kennedy's tragic death will bring Americans closer together and destroy the terrible hatred built up between the Democrats and the Republicans. Perhaps the beliefs of each party will be accepted by all of us as only opinions, which is one of the great privileges of a democracy. Only time will tell.

Mr. Kennedy could have been killed in any city of America, but it was God's will that it occur in Dallas. It is my sincere hope that the citizens of East Liverpool, of Ohio, and of the entire country will not condemn the fine city of Dallas. Think of how each of you would feel if this tragic thing had happened in your own city.

Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment." St. John 7, 24.

Council Eyes Bid

Fund Requested
For Tax Survey

Council was asked Monday night to provide approximately $2,000 to finance a new door-to-door survey that would list every prospective city income tax payer.

The request was made by D. G. Wilkinson, income tax commissioner. He said his department's records are out of date because there has not been a household survey since the first tax ordinance was passed in 1958.

A FEW YEARS ago, the department's records listed 4,900 individual taxpayers — persons whose income is not subject to withholding at the source, he said. The total now is 3,601, he said.

Wilkinson estimated there are at least 200 to 300 persons living in East Liverpool who should be paying the tax, but are not listed on the rolls.

The first survey required six weeks' work by four men, who were paid $350 monthly, he said. He suggested employing two men for three months in the new survey. He said the study should begin by Jan. 1.

Councilmen took the request under advisement, indicating the funds will be provided in the temporary appropriation ordinance in January if it is approved.

IN OTHER business, Council asked Safety - Service Director Robert Owen to check with the State Highway Department on a proposal of the Lions Club to build a safety island at Broadway and E. 4th St.

The suggestion was made by Councilman S. James Welch. He read a letter from Engineer George S. Bloomgren proposing the investigation and pointing out Broadway now is part of State Route 39. The department may have standard specifications for safety islands built on state highways, he said.

Acting on another motion from Welch, Council referred to Bloomgren and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper problems stemming from alleged blocking of the East End Run. Welch said he and fellow members of the street committee joined Owen in an investigation of the run Saturday, acting on complaints filed with Council.

A PROPERTY owner near Mulberry St. agreed to remove debris allegedly placed in the run when a building was remodeled, Welch said.

Council also approved a motion by Councilman Edward D. Massey asking Cooper to check with the Highway Department on a complaint that a resident or two on the end of Claiborne Ave. were left without access by construction of the California Hollow-West End Freeway.

Owen said the investigation to date has showed the state feels it would be necessary to buy a home and tear it down, also obtaining a right-of-way over another piece of private property, to furnish the access.

Massey's motion directed the solicitor to check "on what we can do to furnish access" and report to Council.

treasurer, that a 44-hour week has been worked by non-teaching employees for at least the past 20 years and overtime pay has been applied and paid by the board according to a set scale for each hour in excess.

Some sections of the state code do not apply to city school districts since the Ohio Supreme Court in May ruled extension of Civil Service jurisdiction to non-teaching employees of city school districts was unconstitutional.

For that reason, an opinion from State Atty. General William Saxe is not applicable since it is concerned with contracts, Cooper said.

"But even if it were under the facts of this case, the number of hours to be worked has been agreed upon by the parties thereto and a division of the weekly salary by 44 would be used to determine overtime pay past the 44 hours."

The board's policy has been to pay $2 for the first hour past 44 and $1.85 for each additional hour.

During a brief discussion, James Moss, vice president, pointed out the state law differs from the federal law since it does not provide for time and a half for work beyond 40 hours.

Moss made the motion to comply with the solicitor's opinion and Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop offered the second. The motion also provided that a copy of the opinion be sent to the president of the Pottery City local of the Ohio Association of Public School Employees.

Custodians have been pressuring the board for several months to act on the new law which went into effect Sept. 16, but board members declined until the law could be interpreted.

However, they assured custodians that any decision would be retroactive to the effective date of the law.

A court suit still may be the final outcome since custodians have maintained the law establishes a 40-hour week with no reduction in pay.

Blair informed the board at one meeting that it could cost an additional $11,000 more a year if the custodians were paid the same salary for a 40-hour week as they receive for 44. The cost might be double that if the men worked 44 hours and were paid on a 40-hour rate.

Mrs. Kennedy Attends Ceremony

Agent Cited For Bravery
At Time Of Assassination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy plans to leave seclusion today to attend a special ceremony citing her Secret Service man for exceptional bravery in the moments after an assassin shot down President Kennedy.

The agent, Clinton J. Hill, 31, is to receive the citation from Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon. The Secret Service is an agency of the Treasury.

In the Dallas motorcade, Hill was riding in the car behind the Kennedys'. When the shots felled Kennedy and wounded Texas Gov. John Connally, Hill sprang from his car and vaulted into the moving presidential limousine. He threw himself over the President and Mrs. Kennedy to protect them.

Hill was assigned to guard Mrs. Kennedy shortly after the 1960 election. He has traveled with the former First Lady ever since.

Tight security has been clamped down on the investigation of the assassination and Hill was not permitted to give reports of his account of Kennedy's murder and his part in trying to guard the First Family.

Hill is the second Secret Service agent to receive commendation for actions on that tragic Friday 11 days ago.

Rufus Youngblood, assigned to protect then Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, was personally commended by the newly sworn President Johnson for throwing himself over Johnson when the shots exploded.

The Secret Service has been asked by President Johnson to continue its protection of Mrs. Kennedy and her two children.

For School Buildings

Increase Voted
For Rental Fees

Increased rental fees for use of school facilities were approved Monday night by the Board of Education on the recommendation of the building committee.

The board also voted, 4-1, to reject an application from the Quota Club for a reduction in the charges made for rehearsals for a play it sponsored to benefit its speech and hearing clinic.

The new rental fees are effective immediately with the exception of previous commitments made by the board.

ALTHOUGH some rates have been increased and fees established on three facilities, the major change provides for a fee plus charges for the custodians' time. The rental fee for Westgate cafeteria also provides for payment of cafeteria help.

The old schedule listed only a flat fee although the board has specified custodial fees in some rental applications.

Here's the new schedule with

Hearing Aid

If you can hear people talk and can't make out the words clearly, then this will be your answer. An extremely small hearing aid, using a tiny energized unit, has been perfected by a man who himself is hard of hearing and has been for over 20 years. With the new aid, even whispers are crystal clear and your closest friends will never know how you hear so perfectly. If interested, it is suggested you write HEARING, 32 E. Ninth St., Erie, Pa. You will receive full information at no cost or obligation whatsoever.

WESTGATE gymnasium — commercial event, $55 ($45); community non-profit event with admission charge, $35; community event without admission charge, $20 ($15); Westgate library, $10 (new).

Westgate auditorium, commercial event, $100 ($90); community non-profit event with admission charge, $80; community event without admission charge, $60; Westgate cafeteria, $18 (new).

High school auditorium — commercial event, $55 ($40); community non-profit event with admission charge, $25; community event without admission charge, $12.

Memorial Auditorium — commercial event, $100 ($90); community non-profit event with admission charge, $60; community event without admission charge, $25; rehearsal, $20.

THE BOARD ALSO specified a fee of $5 plus custodial fees for rental of a classroom in any building.

The recommendation on the rental fees was made by James Moss, chairman of the building committee, which also includes Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop and Harry D. McConville.

The board also approved two rentals. It agreed to rent Westgate auditorium on Dec. 21 to the Patterson Division of Patterson Industries, Inc., for a Christmas party for employees' children at a fee of $20 plus custodial hours and a student projectionist's time.

It approved the use of the auditorium on Jan. 21 by the Glenmoor PTA for a concert by the Crucible Steel Male Chorus for custodial fees only.

IN DISCUSSING the fee to be charged the Quota Club, Moss pointed out the board previously had agreed to rent Westgate auditorium at $25 per night rather than the $50 normally charged.

The committee agreed the auditorium had been used for five nights. "We feel the club has done good work for the schools but that we have an obligation to keep sufficient revenue coming in to pay the expenses."

McConville interrupted to emphasize that he did not agree on the Quota Club charge, declaring the club is similar to a PTA. He said he believes the board would have to shoulder the expense of the speech and hearing clinic if it were not for the club and pointed out it made only $400 on the play.

He emphasized, however, that he believes the majority should rule and Mrs. Dunlop had agreed to reject the application for a reduction.

MRS. DUNLOP commented that she also believes the committee had agreed unanimously on the rejection.

Moss then made the motion to charge the club $125 and Mrs. Dunlop seconded. C. Walter Ashbaugh and James Lowe, president, also voted in support with McConville dissenting.

The club asked the charge be lowered several weeks ago but action had been postponed to allow the building committee to investigate.

Mrs. Dunlop's motion to table a proposed payroll deduction plan to permit school employees to purchase "tax sheltered" annuities also was approved.

Supt. Paul H. Blair reported only 14 of more than 200 teachers had indicated they would participate. A survey of non-teaching personnel hasn't been completed, he said.

The plan first was proposed several weeks ago by the East Liverpool Teachers Association.

THE BOARD ALSO approved a study in the language arts field to be made by the Center for School Experimentation of Ohio State University.

Blair said East Liverpool was one of 19 schools in the state selected for a study of teaching of literature and composition in the senior and junior high schools.

The study may take two or three years but there will be no cost except for consultant's expenses, he explained.

The board accepted the resignations of Lester Hickman and Thomas Wehner as elementary teachers and hired Mrs. Donna Ferguson and Mrs. Alice Cooper. Hickman, who had been teaching at McKinley, has returned to Colombia as a missionary and Wehner, an instructor at LaCroft, resigned for health reasons, Blair said.

McConville also reported on the meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association in Columbus at which he was the official delegate. Blair also spoke briefly on the sessions.

The board also formally adopted a resolution which authorized the closing of schools on Nov. 25 as an expression of sorrow at the death of the President.

CLEVELAND (AP) — A high school planned near Harvard Avenue and Lee Road SE will bear the name of the late president John F. Kennedy. The Cleveland Board of Education approved the name Monday.

Cleveland Figure Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Death has claimed James H. Rowland, 53, Cleveland harbor commissioner from 1957 to 1960 and general manager of Cleveland operations of the Cleveland Stevedore Co. from 1960 to 1962. He died Monday in Boston, Mass.

Work All Laid Out

Legislature Makes Move
To Distribute Bond Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Legislature has its work cut out for it—all laid out, according to plan, as it met Monday in an unusual session.

The legislature is meeting to make the first moves in distribution of $250 million which will be realized from sale of bonds and other facilities authorized by the voters last month.

Lawmakers also are scheduled to ask the voters to approve a $500-million bond issue next May for a speedup in highway construction.

After adoption of a series of resolutions in connection with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the legislative leadership laid down the entire program it hopes to accomplish this week in a blitz session.

The session was set up last July when the legislature ended its regular session. This early-winter meeting was scheduled to take up only the legislation needed to permit the state to issue the first series of bonds which voters approved Nov. 5.

The first chink in that solid legislative dike appeared when firm administration support continued for a measure to commit Ohio to participation in the federal program of Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADCU).

Three Republicans — Reps. James D. Hapner, R-Highland; Robert C. Carpenter, R-Seneca, and Robert E. Netley, R-Miami—tried to block introduction of ADCU, but failed.

In two previous sessions, legislation was offered to permit Ohio to join 17 other states in participating in the program designed to ease the poor relief burden of metropolitan areas, but it has gone nowhere.

No one appears willing to hazard a guess as to the amount Ohio has forfeited as a result of its refusal to participate in ADCU.

Minority Democrats apparently are resigned to the Republican program unless they feel there is hanky-panky in connection with the ADCU proposal.

Democratic leaders say there is no plan to interfere with the GOP legislative program except, perhaps, on ADCU.

"We'll see what happens," said Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas. He did not elaborate.

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, said after a survey of the first day's work that the legislature appears to have bitten off a large chunk of legislative work to chew this week. His intimation was that, because of a large amount of controversial material, the session might last longer than the scheduled one week.

The Senate, in order to clear the decks for other legislative action, ground out nearly 80 confirmations of appointments to state posts by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Included were confirmations to such key state agencies as the new Youth Commission and the State Board of Regents. All confirmations were unanimous, but required more than four hours of Senate roll calls.

The proposal to ask the voters to approve still another bond issue was offered in the Senate by Sen. Charles W. Whalen Jr., R-Montgomery.

Whalen originally was billed for a $200-million bond effort, but Rhodes chose to plunge for $500 million in order to promote a big highway program far in

Council Buys First Aid Kit For Rogers

ROGERS — Purchase of a kit of plastic first aid accessories for use by the village and the firemen was authorized by Council Monday night.

The $49 kit includes plastic splints, bandages and other items for emergency use.

Albert Starkey, street commissioner, reported winter supplies of ashes and salt stocked. The street committee will meet Saturday afternoon to determine the number of street sign posts needed for a proposed purchase of new street markers.

Mayor Robert McCreary reported $46 in forfeited bonds for hearings during November.

Council accepted the contribution of a Christmas tree for the Community Hall from Park Ringer of Negley.

A repairman is slated to inspect the furnace of the Community Hall, which has been malfunctioning. Council last night met at the home of Mayor McCreary because of the furnace problem.

Robert Whitacre, new councilman, will serve on the street committee. William Crawford and Dale Williams will begin new Council terms in January.

Bills totaling $1,617 were paid.

A special meeting is planned late this month to complete year-end business.

Salary

CD clerk, is paid as assistant Council clerk.

The legislation granting raises for Willshaw and Dawson, Republicans, and Cooper, a Democrat, will be presented for second reading at the next meeting Dec. 16.

The measures would grant Willshaw a $25 raise, from $100 to $125 monthly. The solicitor would be given an $800 raise, from $3,400 to $4,200, and the treasurer would be boosted by $20 — from $1,320 to $1,600.

Cooper has not had a boost since 1953. It would be the first raise for the treasurer since 1959.

Both were named for new terms at the November general election.

Duffy supported the pay boost for councilmen and did not actively oppose the boost for the clerical employees, allowing both to pass without a dissenting vote.

Of the councilmen's salaries, he said: "I feel a raise is justified, based on the amount of work the councilmen do."

Councilman Edward Massey, who is retiring at the end of the year, also urged enactment of the ordinance.

"I hope it will encourage more people to run for Council and become acquainted with the problems of the city," he said. "They proved to be more far-reaching than I expected. The future councilmen will earn the raises if they do a conscientious job."

Discussing the raises for the clerical workers, Duffy said he hopes the action "doesn't start another round of pay increases."

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., chairman of the finance committee, explained the ordinance listed only persons who were not included in a general raise in December 1962.

"We asked them then to be patient and we would do something for them whenever it was possible," he said. "There is no consideration of a general increase."

Voting in favor of all the raises were: Councilmen Norman Bucher, Massey, Sample, S. James Welch and Mrs. Betty Berg.

When the Council president's salary came up for a vote, Duffy declared that he feels the salary now is high enough, although he intended no reflection on Willshaw.

Massey argued that the president deserves a raise and added: "I feel there should be a pay differential between the president and the councilmen."

He added that the president frequently puts in hours on the telephone contacting members to advise them of special meetings.

"It's a tough job; he deserves more money," Massey said.

Discussing the proposed raise for the solicitor, Duffy said he was opposed to "an $800-a-year raise for a part-time job."

In an investigation of the solicitor's office a year ago, a Council committee was told by a lawyer that the post is "a pretty good part-time job," Duffy added.

"Anytime he does anything, he needs a helper," Duffy added. "I think it's a mistake to raise his pay."

Sample and Massey defended the solicitor and supported the proposed raise.

Sample said he knows of one instance in which an investigation by the solicitor saved the city $54,000.

"That's enough for me," he added.

"If it's an easy job, why didn't someone run against him?" Massey asked. "Our solicitor's office is run at much less expense than any other I know of. He has been a good, diligent man. He has saved the city quite a sum of money in claims alone in the last two years."

Commenting on the proposed hike for the treasurer, Duffy said he feels "$1,300 a year is pretty good pay for a part-time job."

Welch argued in favor of the ordinance, asserting the city must pay "remunerative salaries" to its officials.

"Right or wrong, we're going to be criticized for our action," he said.

Councilmen received their last pay hike Jan. 1, 1960, when the seven members were boosted from $50 to $75 and the president was hiked from $52 to $100.

At least three of the present members will retire Dec. 31 because of defeats in the 1963 elections.

Joseph Burcham of W. 4th St. appeared before Council to urge enactment of the raises. He said councilmen should be paid "at least $150 a month, with $25 extra for any special meeting."

He added the solicitor's post should pay at least $7,000.

Before acting on the pay raises, Council referred to the finance committee a letter asking boosts for three employees of the water and sewage departments.

Listed in a letter from W. O. Schneider, chairman of the Board of Public Utilities, the proposed raises were: Water office chief clerk, from $335 to $365; water office clerk-stenographer, from $289 to $319, and sewage department clerk-stenographer, from $250 to $288.

Kennedy

President's death. Old friends and neighbors dropped in soon to say and do what they could.

First was John A. McCone, head of the CIA, which is not far away.

McCone and Robert went out in the yard, walking for 20 minutes, their heads bowed, talking occasionally.

Lyndon B. Johnson called from Texas, asking in choked tones for legal advice. Would it be all right for him to take the oath in Texas? It would.

Ethel drove away to take the school-age Kennedy children out of school. She wanted to tell them — Kathleen, Joe, Bobby, David and Courtney — before others did.

About 4:30 p.m. the attorney general went to the Pentagon for a 20-minute talk with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. Then by helicopter to Andrews Air Force Base, where he bounded up a stairs and entered the plane bearing the casket, the widow, the new First Lady.

The world knows now how Robert was at the widow's side in the days that followed, how he walked and sat by her side constantly and helped with the funeral arrangements.

Robert F. Kennedy is no man to tell publicly now what his thoughts were, or what his words were, during the tragic days.

But he is known to have had this little conversation with an assistant who approached him: "How are you doing?" Kennedy asked.

"I've had better days," the saddened assistant said.

"Don't be sad," Kennedy said.

The assistant said he is certain that these words came from Kennedy's deep well of religious conviction.

"We asked them then to be patient and we would do something for them whenever it was possible," he said. "There is no consideration of a general increase."

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., chairman of the finance committee, explained the ordinance listed only persons who were not included in a general raise in December 1962.

The Social Notebook

Miss Adell Davis, a visitor from Cincinnati, offered prayer for the meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the First Church of Christ Monday night in the social rooms.

Worship led by Mrs. Hilda Cole included a reading, "Shall We Have Christmas Without Christ?" The group hymn was "Silent Night" with Mrs. Dorothy Davis singing the first verse in German.

Miss Olive Smith, president, conducted business and gave closing prayer. Pamphlets were distributed from the Grundy (Va.) Mountain Mission School.

Following discussion, the group voted to make and send slipper socks to the mission as Christmas gifts. They also decided to give five men's shirts as holiday gifts to the Community Rescue Mission.

Refreshments were served 12 by the social committee. Next meeting is Jan. 6.

Luncheon was served at a buffet table featuring Christmas decorations when Mrs. Mary Jo Garren entertained the Roaring Twenties Club Monday night.

A gift exchange highlighted the social hour. Two tables of canasta were in play with trophies going to Mrs. Linda Crawford, Mrs. Diane Ours, Mrs. Shirley Cottrill and Mrs. Corrine Talbott, travel.

Mrs. Ours and Mrs. Cottrill were guests. Next meeting is

Jan. 6 with Mrs. Nancy Reed

He will be installed in February.

The Presbytery approved a plan to support a Pan-Presbyterian Council which plans to aid in solving the economic and spiritual problems of the Appalachian Region.

The Rev. Charles McCloskey, pastor of the First church in New Martinsville, was named to represent the Wheeling Presbytery on the council.

The Presbytery also authorized a public meeting to hear both sides of the controversial issue of prayers and Bible readings in public schools.

A youth rally for the Synod of West Virginia is planned Jan. 30-Feb. 1 at the Warwood church.

A gift exchange will be held at the Christmas party Dec. 16 with Mrs. Rabon of Gaston Pl.

The Past Noble Grand Association and degree team of Ceramic Rebekah Lodge 286 will meet Friday with Mrs. Laura Costello of Blackmore St.

Miss Gladys Robinson, Mrs. Eunice Hogenkamp and Mrs. Matilda Chapman are associate hostesses. A gift exchange will be held.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Do you know what it's like to have your own mother tell you she hates the sight of you, that you make her sick at her stomach and she wishes you were never born?

Well, I do, because I hear it almost every day. At night when I go to sleep my pillow is soaking wet.

My grades used to be good but this year they have slipped badly because I can't concentrate on anything. Can it be that my unhappiness is driving me crazy? When I get up to recite in school I shake like a leaf and I forget everything.

Don't tell me to talk to my father. He has been an alcoholic for as long as I can remember and he makes no sense at all.

In two years I will be of legal age and can leave home. But what should I do in the meantime? Please help me. — MARY.

Dear Mary: Your mother sounds like an emotional wreck — which is probably the result of your father's drinking (or maybe he drinks because she's so difficult). At any rate, it's a vicious maze and you are trapped.

Talk to your favorite teacher about being placed in a foster home. And in the meantime, write to Al-Anon. (You'll find a number in the yellow pages under Alcoholics Anonymous.) This is a club for teen-agers who must live with an alcoholic.

Newell Lions Club Will Open Yule Candy Sale Wednesday

The Newell Lions Club will open its annual sale of Christmas candy in the community Wednesday night, with proceeds to be used for cheer baskets for the needy during the holidays.

Members are to assemble at Dunlevy's cleaning shop at 6 before starting the canvass of the town. John Robison is chairman.

Sale of Christmas candy has been a club project for 10 years. The cheer baskets are distributed as a co-project with the American Legion Post 114, and 45 were handed out last year.

The club is selling boxes of chocolates at $1.25 a pound.

Reports of the cheer basket and candy committees were presented at a dinner meeting Monday night in the Shamrock Restaurant.

Sylvester Gillespie, employed in the mailing department of the Homer Laughlin China Co., was introduced as a new member. The program featured slides of scenic views of Germany, Norway and other European cities screened by Ed Fahner, program chairman.

R. D. Stanford of New Jersey, member-at-large, was a visitor. Thomas W. Miller, president, presided. The Board of Directors will meet Monday night at 7 with William McGowen, 505 Jefferson St. Date and place of the next regular meeting will be announced by the committee for the Christmas dinner.

Longs Run Cub Scout Program To Be On TV

A program presented by Cub Scout Pack 36 of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church will be shown on television station KDKA Saturday from 9 to 10 a.m. The performance was taped last week in Pittsburgh.

Fifteen received awards at a meeting of the pack Friday night. They were Penn Plumber, Michael Chadwell, David Tittle, David Barker, James Hamilton, David Mitcheson, Dale Diddle, Charles Wolfe, Jeffrey Shuman, Donald Tice, Charles Tice, Howard Peck, Kenneth Cross, Allen Bernstorf and Richard Walker.

Dens 11 had the opening exercise. Dens 6 and 8 presented skits. Dens 4 and 6 served refreshments. A Christmas party will be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 21 at the Calcutta Fire Hall. David O'Hanlon is cubmaster.

Franklin Bills Paid

SUMMITVILLE — Bills totaling $519.64 were paid at a meeting of the Franklin Township trustees Monday night at the Township Hall. The trustees agreed to continue stockpiling slag for use on roads in the winter. Next meeting is Dec. 16.

The fire broke out shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night. Aid was received from the Richwood, Waldo, Pleasant, Radner, Greencamp and Marion fire departments and a Civil Defense unit from Union County.

Damage was not estimated immediately.

he suddenly quit. He now insists religion is a lot of hokey, a crutch for ignorant people who find it easier to believe in black magic than to reason things out.

I've gone from one doctor to another trying to find out why I can't get pregnant. (My husband has been checked and he is all right.) The doctors all say it's probably my nerves.

Last month, in sheer despair, I went to an adoption agency connected with my church. They requested that I return with my husband so he could be interviewed.

When they asked him about his church attendance he told them he has not been inside a church in four years. Then he said some things about religion which are not printable. They told him to return in six months if he changes his mind.

I'm heart sick because I know he is not going to change his mind and this agency never will give us a child so long as he shoots off his big mouth this way. What shall I do — MARIED TO AN ATHEIST.

Dear Married: Contact adoption agencies which are not church-connected. You'll get nowhere with this agency so long as your husband sticks to his views, and he doesn't sound as if he is about to change.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: We are a family of six, so quite a few one-half gallon cartons of milk are brought into our home each week.

I wash the cartons out and fill them with water (you can chop the top off, or leave it on). When extra ice is needed I just tear the carton off and have a block of ice for our picnic freezer . . . or you can chip it with an ice pick for table use.

Since we have been getting the plastic coated cartons I cut about two-thirds of the carton off and after washing it thoroughly use this to store leftover foods in. To make a cover, I use foil. I have a dandy ice box dish this way.

When my children play outside they also use these nifty cartons to make their mud pies in . . . not the same ones, however.

MILK CARTON HAPPY.

Gee, I haven't made mud pies in nearly forty years!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Try baking soda to clean those sticky wooden salad bowls. I had the same problem with the woodwork in my home. After trying everything I could think of I finally tried baking soda and it did a terrific job of cleaning and getting rid of grease.

N.N.

DEAR HELOISE: My crystal and glass plates have a horrible film over them. I hesitate to wash them with steel wool. Please tell me what to do.

PERFECTIONIST.

DEAR PERFECTIONIST:

NEVER use steel wool on glass or crystal. Put on your rubber gloves (and, ladies, please use rubber gloves for this). Put all your crystal and glass plates in your sink. Put the plug in, sprinkle some soap suds or detergent over the dishes. Turn on your hot water faucet and cover them completely. Let them set until the water is cold. Pull out the plug and rinse the dishes.

HELOISE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: My wife has messed up three car fenders in the last year trying to put the car in the garage.

I took some old paint and drew a line on the floor in the middle of the carport, just like the dividing line on a highway. And do you know that for six months now she has not dented a fender?

GEROLD PERRIN.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that you could wash dried prunes, put them in a fruit jar, cover with cold water, screw the top on, and put them in your refrigerator for a few days and they will be beautifully soft? These are delicious for breakfast and especially good for the kiddies between meals.

No sugar or cooking is necessary at all.

VIVIAN.

After the water gets cold take a terry cloth wash rag and wash them in this bleach water. After rinsing again, put them back into your sink, put the plug in again and add one-half cup of vinegar. Turn the hot water faucet on and let them soak 10 minutes again.

Wash the dishes as usual in the vinegar water solution. I

HELOISE.

I bought some. I tried it. I did it, we ate it! Real good.

West Beaver Board Elects

Charles P. Henderson was elected president and Richard Hertler vice president of the Western Beaver County Board of Education Monday night during the annual reorganization, following the regular meeting.

Henderson, principal at South Side High School, and Hertler, are both of Ohioville and were originally appointed to the board in 1959.

John G. Flasco, retiring president, administered the oath of office to two new members, Richard Graham and Donald Roach.

The board decided to meet once a month, instead of twice, convening on the first Monday at 8 p.m. in the High School at Industry.

The Western Beaver Music Boosters were granted permission to use the band room at the high school the second Monday of each month for meetings and the high school cafeteria Jan. 11 for a "get-acquainted" party.

The board also authorized an in-service art workshop for teachers March 17-19 in the Snyder School. Miss Mary Mahan, art consultant for Binney & Smith, Inc., of New York, will conduct the program. Boy Scout Troop 426 of Ohioville was granted permission to use the Fairview School for meetings each Monday evening.

A resolution was adopted to make application to the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg for room schedules for proposed additions to the Fairview and high school buildings.

Baccalaureate was set May 31 and commencement June 2. Next meeting is Jan. 6. Flasco presided.

Mothers Club, PTA Plan Rogers Dinners

ROGERS — Two dinners are planned this week at the Rogers School.

The Mothers Club will hold a coverdish luncheon Thursday at 12:15 p.m. while the Parent-Teacher Organization will hold a coverdish Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Edith Welch, club president, said each member is to provide table service. Coffee and rolls will be furnished. A donation will be taken to finance the children's Christmas project.

Each family also is to take table service for the PTO dinner. Coffee, rolls and a soft drink will be furnished. The dinner committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hauserman, Mr. and Mrs. William Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cope and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lipp Jr. A program will follow.

Eagles Set Memorial Volumes At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Funds for memorial books for 29 deceased members or relatives were presented to the Memorial Public Library Board by the Eagles Lodge at a meeting Monday night.

J. H. Knight of the lodge presented $145 to the board for purchasing books which will be memorials to those who died in 1963.

Cilli Named Board's Head At Midland

Edward Cilli was named president of the Midland Board of Education Monday night and Maurice Newman, as vice president, at the annual reorganization meeting.

Cilli was appointed to the board in 1959, serving two years, before being elected to a six-year term in 1961. He has been serving as vice president.

Newman is serving his first full term, having been elected to a six-year term in 1959. He has served as the finance chairman.

Two members re-elected Nov. 5, John Shovlin and Michael Raich, were sworn in, and Frank A. Sutolett was retained as solicitor at the current fee of $1,800.

Meetings were continued on the second Monday of the month at 8 p.m. at the board offices in the Lincoln High School gymnasium and administration building. Next meeting is Monday evening.

Firemen Plan Calcutta Fete

Preparing to treat Calcutta area children to a Christmas party, volunteer firemen decorated the fire hall with red, white and green streamers and a Yule tree at their meeting Monday night.

The party will be given Dec. 20, an annual project of the department. About 250 are expected to attend, with activities to begin at 7:30. Santa Claus will arrive at 8.

Firemen said all children of the Calcutta area, their parents and friends may attend. There will be entertainment and Christmas treats.

Firemen will sponsor another in a series of round and square dances in the fire hall Saturday night, with the Starlights to provide music.

Dale Horger, president, conducted routine business. Next meeting is Monday night at 7.

Officers Are Elected In Masonic Lodge 92

Officers were elected at a meeting of John Washington Masonic Lodge 92 Monday night at the lodge hall on Locust St.

Named were Luther Thornton, worshipful master; Beauford Joyce, senior warden; Ed Williams, junior warden; Caesar Peters, secretary; Richard Carter, treasurer, and Virgil Smith, past master, trustee.

The installation will be Dec. 16.

Radio Club Plans Yule Fete, Election Dec. 16

Plans for a Christmas party Dec. 16 at the Glenmoor fire station were made at a meeting of the Triangle Amateur Radio Club Monday night at the Ohio Power Co. building.

Nomination of officers was held for election at the party. Howard Johnston spoke on the Federal Reserve Banking system.

With regular offices in Beaver, Angel's salary will be $10,500 per year, plus expenses.

'Civil Rights' Bill Gets 1st Reading

Council gave first reading Monday night to an ordinance authorizing establishment of a 12-member Community Relations Board "to study the problems of the various races, colors, creeds and nationalities living within the community and to eliminate discrimination in employment . . . for the welfare and good order of the city."

The so-called human relations board will function with two Executive Commissions — the Commission of Inter-Group Relations and the Commission of Employment Practices, the ordinance provides.

THE LEGISLATION gives the board the right to investigate alleged cases of employment discrimination. If the board finds, after a hearing, that a discriminatory act has been committed, it may issue a "cease and desist" order to the defendant.

The ultimate step, if the board's orders are ignored, would be prosecution in Municipal Court, for which the maximum penalty on conviction would be a fine of $100 or a 20-day jail term.

Enactment of the ordinance represents a victory after at least 18 months' effort on the part of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

THE NAACP's efforts for approval of such a measure date back to the summer of 1962.

The ordinance provides a 11 members of the commission will be appointed by the mayor, who will serve as permanent chairman. Each of the Executive Commissions will meet at least once a month, it provides.

In the original appointments, to provide for staggered expiration dates of terms, four members will be named for one year, four for two years and four for three years. When successive appointments are made, all will be for three years.

THE MEMBERS will serve without pay. The city will provide office space and clerical assistance. Each Executive Commission will have five members.

Provisions for establishment of the board are contained in a six-page ordinance that will become an entire new section of the City Code known as Chapter 36.

The principal functions of the Commission on Inter-Group Relations will be:

"To study the causes of inter-group tensions which may exist and to formulate and carry out a comprehensive educational program . . .

"CULTIVATE better relations between racial, national and religious groups, working toward elimination and prevention of all undemocratic barriers that curb equality of rights and opportunities and that produce prejudice or discrimination. . . .

"Help build a community where people will learn increasingly to act on the basis of the facts and to accept or reject a person on the basis of individual merit. . . .

"Assemble and analyze factual data concerning racial and religious discrimination and other related practices in the areas of housing, transportation, education, health service, civil rights, recreation and law and order. . . .

3 More File Vote Expense

Three more East Liverpool candidates and two organizations have filed sworn statements of expenses in connection with the Nov. 5 election with the County Election Board.

Donald E. Smith, Democrat who won the Third Ward Council seat after his victory was upheld by a recount, said he spent $18.89 while his opponent, S. James Welch, said his expenses totaled $25.20.

James F. Cunningham, who was defeated for the Second Ward post, reported expenditures of $25.10.

H. James Allison, chairman of the BOP committee which supported retention of the city income tax, said the committee had receipts of $476 and expenses of $449.14.

The balance of $26.86 will be contributed to the Community Fund, Allison reported.

The receipts included $319 from the sale of the BOP kits, a button and bumper sticker, and the remainder in contributions from individuals and organizations, the chairman's statement showed.

James F. Steiner, chairman of the Beaver Local Parent-Teacher Association which supported passage of a 7-mill operating levy, reported receipts and expenditures of $67.40.

Council Holds Up Bill To Authorize Meter Purchase

Council delayed action Monday night on a proposed resolution that would have authorized the administration to replace worn-out 1947 model parking meters.

Action was postponed because no final decision has been made on the number of meters to be purchased, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper reported.

At its Nov. 19 meeting, on recommendation of the planning committee, Council authorized presentation of the legislation. There was an estimate at that time that about 400 new meters would be required. However, no final decision has been made.

Dual Parking Meter Meter of Canton installed 475 meters when the present system was put in service in September 1947. More than 200 have been added in the intervening years.

400 Steelmen Idled

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — A total of about 400 workers have been laid off at the Lorain works, National Tube Division of U.S. Steel Corp., in the last three weeks, unofficial sources reported Monday night. A company spokesman said there had been a number of layoffs due to a reduction in orders for finished goods.

"Our 10 employees need public help to win this race against time and patrons of the Chester Post Office can assist us by shopping and mailing right now and by using ZIP CODE in both return and destination addresses."

Hunting Mishap Fatal

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — A shooting accident Monday took the life of James Banks, 24, of Chillicothe as he was hunting with four friends near here.

Asks Water Okay

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes was asked Monday to authorize the use of Civil Defense pipes and pumps to draw water from Lake Cowan to alleviate a water shortage at Clarksville. Clinton County commissioners were told only 10 days' supply of water is left in the village reservoir.

Club To See Film

LISBON — A film, "Ohio Out-of-Doors," will be shown at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday noon at the Daughters of America Lodge rooms. Atty. George Lafferty is program chairman. The film was provided by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio.

"Early mailing also gives us time to get gifts and cards into the hands of addressees in good condition with less chance of damage or delay due to human error."

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

'This Is The Other Jack Benny'

On "The Jack Benny Program" tonight (9:30 on Channel 9) there will be not one but two Jack Bennys. The other Benny is shorter, wider and comes equipped with a full head of wavy hair.

He also is much younger than the real Benny's 39 years and goes around Alan Gill using the name Bob Blasser. Blasser is a Boston comedian who, at the drop of a hat — and I dropped one with him the other afternoon — will swing into a Benny routine.

"Well!" he'll exclaim. "That's the most ridiculous thing I ever heard!"

AND YOU GET the eerie feeling that the man is possessed of a Dybbuk — a Dybbuk from Waukegan, Ill.

For months now, Blasser has been busy phoning Benny's friends and passing himself off as the master.

On Mike Douglas' TV show, originating in Cleveland, Blasser phoned Lucille Ball, George Burns and Sammy Davis Jr., giving them all the Benny hello and then chatting on typically about show business matters — taping sessions, publicity, etc.

It was Burns who strung along with the gag for a few minutes, then announced that this was all very amusing, since Benny was with him at the moment.

BLASSER works with a small troupe of traveling gypsies who call themselves "B" Productions and go about the New England countryside, putting on their own comedy revues at local auditoriums, banquets and church socials.

Since business has not precisely been booming for the "B" people, Blasser decided on the telephone gimmick early this year in what he calls a "last-ditch effort" for recognition.

He phoned Jackie Gleason and Garry Moore, to begin with, and thoroughly hoodwinked those eminent gentlemen.

Danny Kaye, after a few words had been exchanged, caught Blasser up in a phrase Benny wouldn't have used.

JERRY LEWIS was another fellow, protesting that the call would have come collect if it had been the real Benny phoning.

Perry Como was impressed and invited Bob Blasser onto his "Salute to Broadway" TV show last March.

In April, Blasser phoned the Ziegfeld Theater in New York where Benny was playing, announced himself as "the other Jack Benny" and chatted with him.

Inexperience To Mark Wellsville Cage Scene In 63-64

Flesch Is Lone Veteran; Tigers Open Friday At Lisbon

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Inexperience will be in Wellsville High's corner this year, with Coach Jack McDevitt accurately asserting that "the situation is as bad as it has been for a long time."

Graduation claimed the entire varsity of last year along with McDevitt's front-line bench strength.

THE TIGERS raise the curtain on their new campaign Friday night at Lisbon with five new faces in the lineup.

However, one is bespectacled Terry Flesch, 6-3 pivot who won

Wellsville Season

Cage Tickets On Sale

Wellsville High fans may purchase season basketball tickets for nine home games by contacting Don Lowe, faculty manager, at LE 2-1372 (school) or LE 2-2076 (home). Season tickets cost $7.65 and are on sale now, Lowe reported. First home game for the Tigers is Dec. 14 against East Liverpool.

a starting assignment near the close of last season after a spectacular job with the reserves.

"We're not very good, not big, have nobody back, no lettermen, no height and no experience," McDevitt said woefully. He's won 73, lost 50 in six full seasons at Wellsville.

FLESCH, a strong rebounder and good shot from in close, moved into the starting lineup in February of last season and tallied 20 points. With his late support, Wellsville finished 14-6. The Bengals, it must be pointed out here, are no pushover for anyone when it comes to basketball, regardless of the experience on hand. Most Tiger cagers develop rapidly.

McDevitt has picked Lester Bennett, 5-10, and Tom Betz, 5-11, both seniors, for starting guards.

At the forwards will be Dick Call, 5-11, junior, and Melvin Pullie, 6-0, senior.

ALL BUT Flesch will be making their first varsity starts. The others saw reserve action last year, but Call is making the biggest jump of all. A good shot, his small size kept him on the bench for most of last year with the reserves.

The Tiger chief was counting on freshman Chris Thornton, 5-10, for a starting job this weekend but the strong, aggressive youngster is ill and his status for the season appears doubtful.

THE REMAINDER of the varsity contingent will include: Dick Bratt, 6-2 junior; Pat Welch, 5-11 junior; Dennis Pelly, 6-2 junior; Dick Murray, 5-10, Mick Compartore, 5-11, and Harry Thornton, 5-6, all sophomores, and Jeff MacLean, 5-8.

MacLean has a lot of potential but is hampered by football injuries to his ankles.

McDEVITT sees the opening game with Lisbon as "real tough," with the Blue Devils owning more size and experience.

The Tigers also are in action Saturday night at Beaver Local. The first of nine home games will be Dec. 14 against East Liverpool.

New foes on the 18-game slate are Oak Glen, Jefferson Union and Springfield, the latter Buckeye Border Conference opponents. Weirton Madonna and Goshen Union have been dropped, while Oak Glen replaces Chester.

WELLSVILLE will appear in new black uniforms for games on the road, wearing orange and white at Beacom Memorial gym.

The Tigers will also be performing on an entirely new floor in renovated Beacom Memorial gym.

Several of last year's varsity squad have gone on to college, two on scholarships. Ed Nelson is on the Marietta College squad, and Steve Baldwin is a freshman at William & Mary. Other graduated players are Andy Dash (West Liberty), Mark Leyda (Bowling Green) and Jim Powell (Kent State).

The Tiger reserves will again be in the capable hands of Coach Chick McMillan. His squad last year turned in some exciting games and posted a 13-5 record.

The 1963-64 schedule follows:

Dec. 6 at Lisbon
Dec. 7 at Beaver Local
Dec. 14 East Liverpool
Dec. 20 at Steub. Central
Dec. 21 at Oak Glen
Jan. 3 at Toronto
Jan. 4 Midland
Jan. 10 Oak Glen
Jan. 17 Beaver Local
Jan. 18 at Jefferson Union
Jan. 24 Salem
Jan. 25 Springfield
Jan. 31 at Big Red
Feb. 1 at East Liverpool
Feb. 7 Jefferson Union
Feb. 8 at Springfield
Feb. 14 Toronto
Feb. 15 Steub. Central

It's not particularly unusual or disturbing when a college basketball team looks a little on the ragged side in its season opener.

But when a team looks ragged throughout and still rips its opponent by a margin of 38 points that's both unusual and disturbing.

Coach George Ireland's Chicago Loyola Ramblers opened

Season Cage Tickets Are Still Available

East Liverpool basketball fans who have ordered season tickets and paid in full should have received them by now. If they haven't been received, fans are requested to contact the athletic office.

Those who have made a down payment on their tickets may pick them up by paying the balance at the athletic office any afternoon. Season tickets are still available at $10 each.

Tickets for the ELHS-Midland game Friday and the Potter-Alliance tilt Saturday are on sale at Reese's Jewelers. Single game tickets are $1.

their season Monday night with a firm declaration that they're dead serious about repeating as national champions.

With four starters returning from the team that upset Cincinnati in the NCAA final and compiled a 29-2 record last season, the Ramblers romped over North Dakota 92-54 and, according to the game report "looked ragged throughout."

The Ramblers, ranked at the top of the Associated Press pre-season poll, simply overwhelmed the visitors in the feature game on a heavy program.

The other ranked teams in action also came through on schedule with only a couple of upsets spoiling things for the form players. Probably the foremost among those was the 66-53 surprise Davidson popped on Wake Forest and State College of Iowa's 58-54 edge over Iowa State.

Otherwise, the favorites had things pretty much their way. Fifth-ranked Wichita beat Colorado 71-61, No. 7 Ohio State pulled out a tough 74-68 decision over Butler, No. 8 Michigan romped 73-47 against Tulane, No. 9 Kentucky ran up its highest total in four years in a 107-91 crushing of Texas Tech and No. 10 Oregon State ripped Washington State 80-66 in a game that had been postponed from the weekend. Big seven-foot Mel Counts tossed in 38 points for the Bears.

In some of the other major games, Big Ten hopeful Iowa crushed South Dakota 85-66, Southwest Conference defending champ Texas whipped Howard Payne 89-58. Southeastern contender Vanderbilt clubbed Rice 82-68 and SEC defending champ Mississippi State overwhelmed Louisiana Tech 105-61.

Several Stars Sign Quickly

First Round Is Marathon In NFL's Draft Session

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Football League plodded through an all-day session Monday and deep into the morning hours Tuesday in its annual college draft.

Five clubs that remained home and conducted their business by phone or teletype messages to a representative on the line took the league a record eight hours and eight minutes to work its way through the because they were last in the first round selections of the 14 clubs.

Several signings were announced almost simultaneously with the drafts, making it obvious that the clubs were checking the boys to be sure they were interested in playing NFL ball before wasting a turn. The teams were very much aware of the draft by the rival American Football League held Saturday in New York.

Dallas used up two hours and 39 minutes before settling on Scott Appleton, 235-pound tackle from Nebraska's Orange Bowl-bound Cornhuskers, was taken by Philadelphia and Charley Taylor, a strong running back from Arizona State, was picked by Washington before the session ran into the Dallas log jam.

The Minnesota Vikings who lost their first three picks to the AFL last year, quickly signed their No. 1 and No. 2 selections, tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota and end Hal Bedsole of Southern California.

Other early signers announced were Woodson by Baltimore, tackle Dick Evey of Tennessee, the Chicago Bears, tackle Herchel Turner of Kentucky by St. Louis and quarterback Munson by the Rams.

Bucks Trim Butler, 74-68

Unheralded DeVoe Gives Bradds Lift In OSU Win

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, looking for more scoring punch, may have found a shooter to help All-American Gary Bradds.

Unheralded Don DeVoe came through with a clutch performance Monday night that brought the Buckeyes their second straight victory of the young season.

Lightly regarded Butler threw a mighty effort at the Bucks before bowing 74-68 in a real thriller. Bradds, who shared scoring honors with Butler's Jeff Blue with 31 points, calmly dropped in four straight free throws in the final 14 seconds to ice the decision.

But it was DeVoe who provided the heroics and who sparked a second half surge that kept the Buckeyes in front of their challengers from Indianapolis.

The 6-foot-5 senior from Port Williams fired in 26 points on 12 baskets in 15 attempts. Every time the Bulldogs got close, DeVoe went to work. He netted 18 points in the second half on eight straight baskets and two free throws.

The triumph marked the Bucks' 50th in a row on their home floor.

Elsewhere around the state, the Rockets of Toledo University rolled over the University of California at Davis, 76-47. Toledo built up a 22-point lead in the first half and coasted the rest of the way to an easy victory. The Rockets' Larry Jones, Jim Cox and Ray Wolford contributed 21, 17 and 16 points, respectively.

Ohio University trounced Denison, 73-39, in another non-conference tilt. Four of the Bobcats' starter scored in double figures. Don Hilt and Jerry Jackson had 17 points each, while Mike Haley and Paul Storey scored 10 points apiece.

Denison's leading scorer was Bob Johnson with nine points. Kent State fell victim to Wisconsin, 88-77. But Kent State made it tough for the Badgers all the way. The Golden Flashes had a height advantage on Wisconsin and had the lead on five different occasions.

Bork Leads '63 Small College All-Americans

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — George Bork, Northern Illinois' fantastic passer, and 10 other seniors make up the Associated Press Little All-America football team for 1963.

Bork, the human howitzer who rewrote the record book with his tosses, is the only repeater from a year ago. The 1963 all-star aggregation is one of the few during the 30-year history of the Little All-America to be made up entirely of seniors.

Bracketed in the backfield with Bork are Mike Brown, wheel-horse of Delaware's unbeaten team; Sid Banks of Texas A&M, and Martin Luther Agnew, the 196-pound avalanche from Sewanee who soon will enter the ministry.

In front of them is the biggest and most agile line in the history of the Little All-America, restricted to teams whose competition is defined as minor or at the college level by the NCAA as contrasted with the university level where such headline hunters as Alabama, Texas, and Washington prowl.

It is the colleges' schedules that are minor, not their abilities.

The big line boasts two sky-scraping ends in Bob Cherry of Wittenberg and Jerry Cole of Southwest Texas. They are supported by Paul Graham of Massachusetts and Neil Reuter of North Dakota, rated the best lineman in the North Central Conference, at tackles; Ralph Bauman of Puget Sound and Greg Van Orden of Appalachian at the guards with Dick Dean of Depauw at center. Dean is rated the best center in Indiana, despite such nearby major teams at Notre Dame, Indiana and Purdue.

The players on the forward wall average 6-1, weigh 208 pounds to the man and are just over 21 years of age. Cherry is the team's tallest at just a fraction over 6-4 and also the lightest at 187 pounds. Graham, whose Massachusetts team tied Harvard and beat all the remainder of its opponents, is the heaviest at 234 while Bauman is the shortest at 5-10.

The backfield also averages 6 and 21 years of age but displaces only 192 pounds on the average.

Woman Given Fine Of $200, 10-Day Term

A St. Clair Township woman was given two concurrent 10-day jail terms and a fine of $200 and costs today in Municipal Court on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and failure to adhere to restrictions placed on her driver's license by another court.

Mrs. Lwanda Allen, 53, of McCoy Ave. pleaded "no contest" on both counts before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. She was arrested Saturday at 9:25 p.m. on Anderson Blvd. by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, police said.

Judge Chertoff also suspended the woman's operator's permit for six months. He imposed the $200 fine and one of the 10-day terms on the charge of driving while intoxicated.

She was given the other 10-day term on a charge of ignoring a restriction placed on her license by County Judge Herbert E. Arfman of East Palestine in a reckless driving case. Judge Arfman suspended her license until April 30, 1964, except "for work and business purposes" and added that it was not valid after 6 p.m.

Mrs. Allen had pleaded not guilty to the drunken driving charge yesterday, but switched today to "no contest." She pleaded "no contest" yesterday on the charge of improper use of a restricted permit.

Officer Hayes and Mrs. Allen made brief statements to the court this morning before sentence was pronounced. The patrolman said Mrs. Allen was "very much under the influence" at the time of her arrest.

To explain use of her car after 6 p.m., Mrs. Allen told the court she had trouble with a thermostat in the cooling system and stopped at a service station while repairs were made.

"People like you are a potential accident waiting to happen," Judge Chertoff told Mrs. Allen. "The people expect me to protect them from drivers like you."

He ordered that both sentences will be served in the County Jail. Police listed Mrs. Allen with a Walnut St. address, but she told the court she resides on McCoy Ave.

Another driver was penalized and sentencing for a third was Bork completed his collegiate career holding 14 national passing records and responsible for two team marks. During Northern Illinois' nine straight victories during the regular season he completed 244 of 374 aerial attempts for 32 touchdowns and 3,077 yards, an average of 341.9 yards a game. All are records.

During his career he threw 902 times and hit his target on 577 of those occasions. These also are records.

If the Little All-America could be put on the field, one of Bork's prime targets likely would be Cherry, who grabbed 45 passes for 866 yards and 13 touchdowns at Wittenberg.

Brown averaged 6.3 yards each time he carried the ball for Delaware and finished the season with a spectacular 104.8 rushing yards a game average. Banks made the A-I attack click with his running and pass catching as a flanker while Agnew shepherded Sewanee through an unbeaten season by being the team's offensive leader for the third straight year.

George J. Fredrick, 47, of Youngstown was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of making an imprudent turn at E. 5th and Washington Sts. Friday at 10:29 a.m. The fine was suspended on payment of costs.

The judge set sentencing Dec. 11 in the case of James J. Adkins, 11, of 1022 Ambrose Ave., who pleaded guilty this morning on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident Nov. 14 at Bradshaw Ave. and Avondale St.

Cited by Patrolman Hayes, Adkins was represented by Atty. Samuel M. Chertoff. He was arrested Saturday at 9:25 p.m. on Anderson Blvd. by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, police said.

Longhorns Remain No. 1 Despite Scare; Pitt Moves Up To 4th Spot

Texas had a much easier time of it in The Associated Press poll than it had on the field against Texas A&M in its finale.

The Longhorns poked the winning touchdown across with little more than a minute to spare against the Aggies on Thanksgiving for a 15-13 decision.

The squeaker preserved a 10-0 season, and the No. 1 spot in the next to last Associated Press poll of the season. The final vote will be taken next week, with the national championship to the winner.

The Texas poll margin was convincing enough to make it unlikely that even a great performance by No. 2 Navy against Army on Saturday will dislodge the Longhorns. Navy has an 8-1 record.

Texas drew 42 first-place votes from the 51 sports writers and broadcasters on the special AP panel. Navy got eight and Pitt the other one.

On the usual 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, Texas had 485 points to Navy's 432.

Below the top two, the personnel was the same but the rankings were shuffled.

Illinois jumped from eighth to third with 356 points, on its 13-0 defeat of Michigan State for the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl assignment.

Pitt, 31-20 winner over Miami, moved up a notch to fourth. Auburn, 10-8 victor over Alabama, jumped from ninth to fifth. Big Eight champion Nebraska went from seventh to No. 6.

Mississippi dropped from third to No. 7 after a 10-10 tie with Mississippi State.

Oklahoma climbed from 10th to No. 8, after beating Oklahoma State 34-10.

Alabama fell from sixth to

No. 9, and Michigan State from fourth to No. 10.

Besides Navy's date with Army, Alabama has a game left with Miami, Fla., and Pitt meets Penn State Saturday.

The Top Ten, with season records and points:

Texas	10	0	0	485
Navy	8	1	0	432
Illinois	7	1	1	356

All other schools in the Big 8 including Salem, Warren, Alliance, Massillon, Niles and East Liverpool will play a complete seven-game Conference schedule. Big Red and McKinley do not play this season but are scheduled next year to complete the Big 8 slate.

Warren is the defending Big 8 champion.

George Bates, principal at Steubenville High School, was introduced as the new president of the Big 8 Conference.

Preview dates and sites for next season were set for Nov. 21 at Massillon and Nov. 28 at Salem.

Michelosen Claims Leeson Has No Equal At Fullback

PITTSBURGH — Coach John Michelosen feels fullback Rick Leeson has no equal in college football. "I cannot think of a better fullback in college football," said Michelosen. "I wouldn't trade Leeson for any fullback in the country."

For three years, Leeson has been the starting fullback and has gained more rushing yardage than any other Pitt fullback since 1938. In fact during this period, no Pitt back has gained as many yards rushing as Leeson.

AS A SOPHOMORE and a junior, Leeson gained 933 yards. This year he has gained 368 yards and now has a total of 1,301 yards with two games, maybe three, remaining. Leeson has scored five touchdowns, kicked 10 of 14 extra point attempts, scored one two-point conversion, and booted three of five field goals for a total of 41 points, the highest on the team.

Leeson has done everything and I mean everything," said Michelosen. "His blocking has been fantastic. For a three-year period, I doubt if any back has done the job he has. He has caught passes (four for 72 yards and one touchdown), blocked, and has been one of the best linebackers I have coached."

Opposing coaches feel Leeson is the most under-rated player on the team. "Everytime he gets the ball," said Gene Cormum of West Virginia, "I get a funny feeling. Against us, everybody remembers Martha's touchdown run (46 yards), but Leeson was just as instrumental in beating (10-10) us as Martha. He was great."

LEESON has given up personal glory for the need of the team. "There isn't a selfish bone on this team," said Leeson. "Sure, I would like to run the ball more. What a b a c k doesn't? I like to score, yet, after the two bad years we had, winning was more important. This team wants to go to a bowl, and I honestly believe we have a good chance."

Leeson has carried this year 69 times for 368 yards and a 5.3 average. Only once has he been stopped for a loss, one yard against Syracuse. Against Army, he gained 77 yards on nine attempts. "Leeson makes the yards when it is the toughest," commented Michelosen. "He has been doing this for three years."

PITT PLAYS Miami of Florida this Saturday evening (8:00 p.m. in Miami. "I played my first college game there," said Leeson. "I never will forget it. I was nervous, but after getting hit, I was okay."

In high school, Leeson was an All-America choice. His dad, Al, played for Pitt in 1936-37 as a guard. His logical choice was Pitt. "I visited very few schools," Leeson recently recalled. "Pitt was always my first choice. I never have regretted it."

Michelosen said, "Leeson has put the team above everything else. He has done everything a coach could ask. His blocking has been tremendous. His blocks have been responsible for many of our long runs. He has been tremendous all fall. I'm proud of Rick."

LA DEALS Wagner For Barry Latman

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Wagner, 29, hit 63 home runs for the Angels in the last two years, batting .291 in 1963. Latman, 27, was 7-12 with the Indians and lost seven at Tacoma and Bill Kelso, 14-7 at Salem.

Despite the record number of players drafted—eleven $25,000 four-year veterans and fifty-two $8,000 first year kids—there were few names easily recognizable to fans. The best known were three pitchers, Howie Kopitz, Jim Owens and Bill Fischer.

Man Kills Ex-Wife, Then Shoots Himself

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The bodies of Mrs. Lucille Barnhart, about 47, and her ex-husband, Elmer Barnhart, 55, victims of an apparent murder-suicide, were found in her apartment Monday night, police reported.

Mrs. Charles Roduck, 27, daughter of the dead woman, said the couple had argued over a telephone call the woman had received, then Barnhart shot his ex-wife three times before turning the pistol on himself.

OFF THE RECORD

Junior Editors Quiz on PONIES

QUESTION: Where did Shetland ponies originally come from?

ANSWER: The picture at upper left shows the bleak Shetland Islands, which lie to the north of Scotland (see map). There is only poor soil there and the people live by fishing and raising sheep, but Shetland ponies have made the islands famous. The small size of the ponies is due to the sparse pasture in the Shetlands. But, although the "sheltie" doesn't eat as much as a full-sized horse, he is very healthy and strong—perhaps because it is customary for these ponies to stay outdoors all winter.

It is not known how the ponies got to the islands. Some say they came originally from Siberia, brought by way of Norway in the 11th Century. Others think the ponies have been in the Shetlands since the Bronze Age. They are useful to the island people and have become a valuable export. A "sheltie" makes a fine pet, but these little horses have wills of their own and must be trained by experts before it is safe for children to ride and drive them.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color little Hester and her attractive pony. Hester could have a red shirt and blue jeans, while her pony, Hero, could have brown and white patches.

Rodney McGrew of Avon, Ill., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Young Shoplifters From Good Homes

If you live in a town or small city, or in one of the comfortable towns or cities near a big city, you should drop into one of the neighborhood stores, preferable a "five and dime" store, on a day after school. Drop around at a number of them at that time or on a Dr. Gary Meyers Saturday. Notice the number of boys and girls from seven to 15 years of age handling and looking at small articles of merchandise there. Observe how few of these children really buy anything. You might see one of these youngsters slipping an object into his pocket.

AS A RULE, these children are well-dressed. You might recognize a neighbor child among them, even your own child.

According to a newspaper report, the PTA of Chappaqua, an affluent community of Westchester County, New York, appointed a committee to investigate reports of missing merchandise in the village stores.

The findings were so alarming that the PTA sent a copy of the report to all parents of children of grades five and up.

The committee interviewed a number of local storekeepers who reported an amazing amount of shoplifting by school children. Obviously the most commonly stolen articles were candy, lipstick, toys and the like. Girls as well as boys were involved.

Some of the offenders, when caught, were upset and promised never to do it again. Some other youngsters, more brazen, said, "All the kids do it," or "It's not really stealing," or "My parents are good customers of yours."

THE POLICE CHIEF said that not one merchant had called on the police about a single case of shoplifting by children.

Some of the storekeepers said that when they called the parents of the child caught in shoplifting they often received indignant denials or threats of boycott. As a result, they just charged the shoplifting to business expense.

Over all our nation there are many shoplifting children from affluent families.

PTA groups and other community bodies should alert parents to this tragic problem. The local PTA might do well to hold regular meetings for discussion of this problem. The local merchants should be invited to attend and relate their experiences with these matters.

Members of the police, the clergy and teachers in church schools, as well as all parents of the community should also be present. And why shouldn't parents at home and teachers at school and religious instructors discuss how wrong shoplifting is, especially when a child isn't specifically accused?

WHY, MOREOVER, shouldn't shoplifting be looked upon as out-and-out thievery?

If your child is caught shoplifting don't abuse him. Go with your child to hear what the man at the store says about the matter. If the child still has the stolen article, have him return it in your presence. Otherwise, either have him reimburse the store out of his own savings or see you do so.

Even if the child insists he took nothing, tell him in the storeman's presence not to come into this or any other store again for a designated period unless in company with a responsible older person.

Men Seen More Successful In Reducing Than Women

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON

Associated Press Science Writer

cludes dieting, drugs, education about eating and psychotherapy.

Fineberg said prolonged salt and water retention during weight reduction can probably be blamed for most failures in treatment of obesity.

He explained that water retention can cause a weight gain even while a patient is maintaining a low caloric intake and actually losing fat tissues. The discouraged patient often then abandons treatment.

The heaviest weighed 640 pounds at the start of treatment. In nine weeks he lost 97 pounds, almost 11 pounds a week. But he failed to continue treatment.

Two patients, a woman scaling 406 pounds to start and a man weighing 363, each lost 130 pounds in 51 and 27 weeks, respectively, Fineberg said.

His treatment consists of two phases. The first is strict with a diet of 900 calories a day, drugs to curb appetite, and drugs to get rid of excess water. The treatment lasts two to 12 months.

Control is modified in the second phase, which Fineberg says should continue for life. It includes dieting, drugs, education about eating and psychotherapy.

Fineberg said prolonged salt and water retention during weight reduction can probably be blamed for most failures in treatment of obesity.

He explained that water retention can cause a weight gain even while a patient is maintaining a low caloric intake and actually losing fat tissues. The discouraged patient often then abandons treatment.

Two weeks ago a Navy sound truck began broadcasting the recorded call of a seagull in distress along the strips each morning.

"There are so few of them now they aren't much of a problem," a spokesman said.

Judges Study Plea For New Domer Trial

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A three-judge panel had under consideration today a motion for a new trial for Robert K. Domer, who is awaiting sentence to the electric chair in the death of an Akron fruit peddler.

Domer's lawyers cited 16 reasons which they believe justify a new trial in filing their motion Monday. There was no indication when the judges would rule on the motion.

Common Pleas Court judges George N. Graham, John Rossetti and Paul G. Weber convicted Domer last Friday of first-degree murder in the death of Howard F. Riddle, 54, whose charred body was found in Domer's burning automobile April 23 along the Stark-Wayne County line west of Massillon.

The judges did not recommend mercy, making the death penalty mandatory. Sentence was deferred pending appeal.

The state charged that

Domer, 43, a former Canton mortgage investment broker, killed Riddle to fake his own accidental death so his family could collect $288,000 in insurance.

In asking for a new trial, Domer's attorneys challenged such things as admissibility of certain medical evidence and the legality of certain court proceedings. They also questioned the requirement that Domer defend himself against two charges they claimed were identical in nature.

Potential Fire Hazards Found In Aged Homes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Potential fire hazards were found in three of the nine Huron County nursing homes inspected following a fire Nov. 23 at the Golden Age Nursing Home near Fitchville in which 63 elderly patients died, the Cleveland Plain Dealer said.

Operators of the homes—two in Norwalk and one in a small community southwest of Norwalk—were given oral orders to eliminate the hazards, the newspaper said in a special dispatch from Norwalk.

Sheriff John Borgia asked the State Fire Marshal's Office for the inspections shortly after the Fitchville fire, it was reported.

Potential fire hazards found reportedly included overfusing of circuits at all three nursing homes; the use of 30-amp fuses in switch boxes at the two Norwalk homes (ordinarily, house circuits carry 15-amp fuses); combustible material in the basement and on the back porch of the third home.

Boys Use Token, Lot Of Nerve For Flight

BOSTON (AP) — Two 7-year-old boys used two subway tokens and a lot of nerve to get a round trip flight to New York.

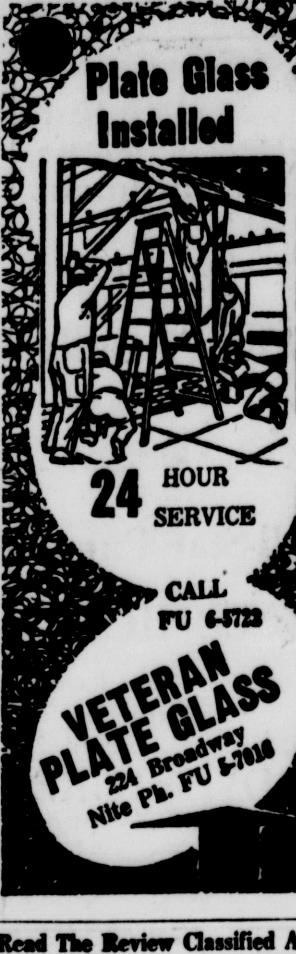

Back in Boston, Billy Alther and Steve Murray told authorities they rode the subway from their homes to Logan Airport Monday night, then nonchalantly strolled with other passengers aboard an Eastern Air Lines plane.

The shuttle plane was airborne before a stewardess selling tickets came to the boys and discovered they were alone and broke.

New York police put the boys on the first Eastern flight back to Boston.

Educator Claimed

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Walter Bauer, 65, Jackson professor of clinical medicine at Harvard University, died Monday.
